

Technical planning law for railways (General Railway Law - AEG)

DESCRIPTION

The introduction to the sectoral planning law of railways is aimed at engineers working in the field of railway construction who are involved, e.g. as planners or project managers, with the diverse planning law issues.

SEMINAR CONTENTS

DAY 1 09.30-17.00

- Overview of planning approval law and sectoral planning law
- Planning authorities
- Parties involved and affected in the planning approval process
- Plan approval decision, plan approval and plan waiver
- Plan changes
- Planning principles
- Legal effects and legal nature of the approval decisions
- Main features of the theory of administrative acts
- Process flow
- Planning consideration and consideration error doctrine
- Mixed-use facilities: Station reception building
- Appeal procedure
- UVPG and preclusion
- Planning approval and correlating procedures: Crossing rights and decommissioning procedures
- Case law
- Case studies

Seminar-No. 05.04

Online-Seminar*

DATES & COSTS

On-demand Nuremberg
Valenciennes

Length: 1 Day

Fee: 700,00 €

incl. lunch and certificate of participation
plus VAT

* On-demand

TARGET GROUP

- Technical project manager
- RU and EIU staff
- Technically interested people
- Construction process stakeholders
- Graduates of technical studies

LANGUAGES

